The authors present the following updates to correct errors in the database distribution of Met χ^2 . This change does not affect any results or analyses presented in the paper other than the crystallographic χ^2 distributions of the Met residue. Corrections in both the manuscript and the supporting information are described below.

Supporting Information

Page SI 4, Table S2: the χ^2 entry for Met should read as follows.
