Dr. Boushra Riad Mikhael

Dr. Boushra Riad Mikhael, 75, of Ottawa, died Thursday, January 26, 2012 after a courageous battle against colon cancer. He died with his family at his side. He was husband of Dr. Nadia Mikhael (nee Tadros), his life partner and true love. He was the role model and anchor to his two sons, Dr. Sam Mikhael and Dr. Joseph Mikhael. Dr. Mikhael was born in Assiout, Egypt, to Riad and Labiba Mikhael, the tenth of eleven siblings. He attended medical school in Cairo. He trained as a Urologist in London, England at the Institute of Urology; in 1970, with Nadia and four-year old Sam, he moved to Ottawa, Canada, where the family expanded to include Joe in 1971. He worked tirelessly as an adult and pediatric urologist at the Queensway Carleton Hospital and the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario for 30 years. He was an Assistant Professor of Surgery at the University of Ottawa and an examiner for the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. He retired as Chief of Urology at the Queensway, having cared for thousands of patients, trained hundreds of students and served the medical community with outstanding surgical expertise and tenderness. His life was dedicated to his Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. He was also a prolific author on many biblical topics, culminating in his book "The Desire of All Nations", completed in the final weeks of his life.
