Sandro Galea, David Vlahov, and Sarah Sisco, Supplement Editors

This supplement to the Journal of Urban Health presents the submitted abstracts that were awarded oral or poster presentation at the Second International Conference on Urban Health, New York City. All abstracts were reviewed by the abstract review committee.

This supplement first presents the submitted abstracts selected for poster presentation (Sections I and II) and then presents submitted abstracts selected for oral presentation (Section III*). We note that invited submissions are not included in this supplement. The abstracts are arranged, first, according to one of two general topics, The Urban Environment and Themes in Urban Health. Second, they are divided according to one of thirteen subjects, which are listed below. Each of the thirteen subjects is assigned a number (from 01–13), the first two numbers of a given abstract. For example, to find Abstract 03325, the first two digits (03) represent the Physical and Social Environment, and the last three digits (325) represent the abstract number itself, listed chronologically within each section.
