ELSEVIER

EDITORIAL

Letter from the Editor

Dear Fellows of the ACCWS,

With your continued support our journal continues to produce high quality articles. Published papers will be posted on PubMed and PubMed Central to give the authors the credit and visibility that they deserve.

This year we are excited to team up with the University of Toledo, Ohio to continue to offer our annual symposium on “advancing the standards in wound care and hyperbaric medicine”. The conference will be held in Toledo on November 7, 2014. You may now register for this conference through the College’s Website at www.accws.org. You should have received a brief survey to see if there is interest in a national symposium in Chicago in 2015. With your support we will be holding the college’s first national membership meeting and symposium next year in Chicago. As you can see education is critical to the present and future of the College.

The merger with the journal of wound medicine is still under discussion and we will keep you updated with any development. We will also update you with the final decision of going completely electronic starting next year. The college will be exhibiting at the SAWC in Vegas this October. Please stop by to say hello.

Enjoy the rest of the summer and see you in Vegas and Toledo.

Sincerely,

*Richard Simman, MD, FACS, FACCWS
Editor in Chief, Journal of the ACCWS*