Principles and Practice of Trauma Care, SK Kochar. Jaypee Brothers Medical Publishers (P) Ltd. New Delhi 1998. Pages 372, price Rs.200.00 Soft cover. ISBN :81-7179-614-1

This concise book on trauma care is the maiden effort by one of our most experienced and battle inoculated surgeons. Speciality chapters have been contributed by many experienced surgeons both in and out of uniforms. The author had dealt extensively with the general principles of trauma care especially polytrauma, the echelon concept, damage control, trauma scores, wound ballistics, etc. There is an overemphasis on gastro-intestinal trauma which reflects the personal interest of the author. The chapter on hepatic trauma is particularly exhaustive.

The book is eminently readable, lucid in its presentation and amply illustrated. It is recommended for the libraries, casualty department of hospitals and as a valuable companion for the young surgeons.

Brig KK MAUDAR

Consultant & Prof & HOD, Department of Surgery, Armed Forces Medical College, Pune 411 040.