Author Corrections

The October 20, 2012, review article by Lenihan and Cardinale, entitled “Late Cardiac Effects of Cancer Treatment” (J Clin Oncol 30:3657-3664, 2012), contained an error.

In the section “Vascular Compromise,” under subsection “Predominant Vascular Problems: Atherosclerosis and Thrombosis, Arterial or Venous,” the whole-lung irradiation dosage for patient case 1 was given as 52.4 Gy in the third sentence of the first paragraph, whereas it should have been 12 Gy as follows: “Her cancer history is notable for a Wilms tumor at age 6 years, treated with nephrectomy, resection of a solitary lung nodule, and whole-lung irradiation (12 Gy).”

The online version has been corrected in departure from the print. The authors apologize for the mistake.

Journal Correction

The November 20, 2012, article by Hentrich et al, entitled “Stage-Adapted Treatment of HIV-Associated Hodgkin Lymphoma: Results of a Prospective Multicenter Study” (J Clin Oncol 30:4117-4123, 2012), contained an error.

In Table 1, under “HIV-RNA below detection limit,” 55 was given as a median value, whereas it should have referred to the percentage of patients who had HIV-RNA below the detection limit, as follows:

Characteristic	No.	%
HIV-RNA below detection limit	59	55

Journal of Clinical Oncology apologizes for the mistake.
