This has been corrected as of November 14, 2016. JOP

ASCO-SITC Clinical Immuno-Oncology Symposium

Save the date for the inaugural ASCO-SITC Clinical Immuno-Oncology Symposium, taking place February 23-25, 2017, in Orlando, FL. This symposium brings together the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) and the Society for the Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) and will focus on clinical and translational research in immuno-oncology and implications for clinical care. In addition to state-of-the-art education, the symposium will offer robust opportunities for networking, discussion, and interaction with expert faculty and attendees from around the world. Attendees can expect to leave the symposium with a broader knowledge of immunology and how best to apply its principles to their treatment regimens.
